FAIR ASSOCIATION RESISTS ITS CLAIM AND WILL ENDEAVOR TO FORCE HIM TO COME TO THEIR TERMS.

The controversy between Alex Ullman and the St. Louis Fair Association over the manner in which the betting ring shall be conducted reached an acute phase Monday morning, when the former applied in Circuit Court for an injunction to restrain the association from in any way interfering with his management.

HARD LEGAL FIGHT AHEAD.

The Fair Association resists his claim and will endeavor to force him to come to their terms.

The controversy between Alex Ullman and the St. Louis Fair Association over the manner in which the betting ring shall be conducted reached an acute phase Monday morning, when the former applied in Circuit Court for an injunction to restrain the association from in any way interfering with his management.

Ullman alleged that the association had issued its intention, in a letter which he published, in Sunday's Post-Dispatch, to prevent him from charging bookmakers a sum as he desired, and restricting the amount to $100 a day.

Latham and Comiskey have always been close friends. They played on the old Browns, the famous four-time winners of the National League pennant.

The release of Latham marks the beginning of the end of a brilliant career upon the diamond. No man save perhaps, the late Mike Kelly, ever enjoyed the same general popularity as did Latham. His witty, laughable and impetuous coaching made him a favorite and a drawing card all over the country. Added to this was the fact that in his prime he was a great ball player.

Latham was close to 40 years old. He began playing professional ball in Philadelphia about 1887. From that city he came to St. Louis, where as a base runner he was a star. From 1884 to 1888, he made a great reputation.

In 1889, he contracted the habit of shirking hard-hit balls, which became worse as the years went on and was finally his undoing. This year his arm, which was the greatest throwing machine in the business, gave out completely. This no longer was a matter that he put up with, but a serious ailment.

Latham can still bat and run bases with the best of them, and he is still a great thrower and a fielding light, he might prove a good man.

Sheehan came from the Little Rock club of the Southern League last summer. He made a good record with the attack last year, but he is not in good condition this year. He is not in good condition this year. He is not in good condition this year.

It was also rumored that McDougall would be given his release, but Manager Connor thinks he has the making of a pitcher in him, so he will be retained.

The team has not assumed definite shape. Connor, Quinn, Gross and Meyers will be the infield. Conroy, Barry, Hart, Kissinger, Donahue and McDougall will make up the outfield. Breitenstein, land and Douglas will do the catching. Monte Cross arrived from Philadelphia last night and will be in the game today.

BATTING MATCH.

Good Records Made by St. Louis Terriers Sunday.

The rat killing match in a pit at the rear of a saloon corner Miller and Main streets Sunday afternoon was an exciting event for half a hundred lovers of such sport.

The contest narrowed down to two expert rat destroyers named Nellie and Mack.

Mack killed 11 rats in one minute and three seconds, out difference a rat between the referees, and Nellie and Mack were given another match at 15 rats each.

Mack had his 15 dead in one minute and forty seconds, but Nellie proved the better fighter by killing her 15 in one minute and forty seconds, and was declared the winner.

William Jaegerling's "Nigger" was given a single go at fifteen rats and broke the record by killing the lot in one minute and three seconds.

Other dogs that took part in the killing were: Sport, 5 rats in 1 minute 15 seconds; Skip, a bull pup, 10 rats in 1:30; Johnny, a bull pup, 15 rats in 1:45; Dave, 5 rats in 1:30; Jesse, 6 rats in 1:30; Skip, 15 rats in 2:10; Crib, a bull terrier, 15 rats in 1:15; Red, a Dandie Dinmont terrier, 15 rats in 1:40.

ONE SCH. BO. CARLISLE.

Seeking Indorsements by the Endless Letter Chain.

The "REVENOOS" AT WORK.

Liquor Dealers Oblige by Writing Two Letters Asking the Recipients to Write Two Others.

That most abominable of all latter-day abominations, the endless letter chain, is now being worked to manufacture a sham sentiment for John G. Carlisle.

The following letter, which was received by a Post-Dispatch reader and forwarded to this office, explains the scheme:

RIVERSON, Ala., May 18, 1936.—F. M. Carter, Corvallis, Ark. Dear Sir: I am in favor of Hon. John G. Carlisle for the next President of the United States, write a letter to the Kentucky Carlisle Club of Owensboro, Ky., and add your indorsement.

The club wants one million letters calling for Carlisle to take the next National Democratic Convention. Then write two letters, exact copies of this letter, to two persons of your choice, and ask them to select the "Greatest American Statesman." Sign your own name to the letters you write. Yours truly, W. B. RYAN.

The fact that the author of this letter is a wholesale liquor dealer is not his apparent enthusiasm for Carlisle.

The "Greatest American Statesman" has control of all the internal revenue collectors in the country, and through this army of agents he could, if he felt so disposed, make it very unpleasant for such men as W. B. Ryan of Riverston, Ala.

Witty, laughable and impetuous coaching made him a favorite and a drawing card all over the country. Added to this was the fact that in his prime he was a great ball player.

Latham was close to 40 years old. He began playing professional ball in Philadelphia about 1887. From that city he came to St. Louis, where as a base runner he was a star.

That most abominable of all latter-day abominations, the endless letter chain, is now being worked to manufacture a sham sentiment for John G. Carlisle.

The following letter, which was received by a Post-Dispatch reader and forwarded to this office, explains the scheme:

RIVERSON, Ala., May 18, 1936.—F. M. Carter, Corvallis, Ark. Dear Sir: I am in favor of Hon. John G. Carlisle for the next President of the United States, write a letter to the Kentucky Carlisle Club of Owensboro, Ky., and add your indorsement.

The club wants one million letters calling for Carlisle to take the next National Democratic Convention. Then write two letters, exact copies of this letter, to two persons of your choice, and ask them to select the "Greatest American Statesman." Sign your own name to the letters you write. Yours truly, W. B. RYAN.

The fact that the author of this letter is a wholesale liquor dealer is not his apparent enthusiasm for Carlisle.

The "Greatest American Statesman" has control of all the internal revenue collectors in the country, and through this army of agents he could, if he felt so disposed, make it very unpleasant for such men as W. B. Ryan of Riverston, Ala.

Witty, laughable and impetuous coaching made him a favorite and a drawing card all over the country. Added to this was the fact that in his prime he was a great ball player.

Latham was close to 40 years old. He began playing professional ball in Philadelphia about 1887. From that city he came to St. Louis, where as a base runner he was a star.

From 1884 to 1888, he made a great reputation. In 1889, he contracted the habit of shirking hard-hit balls, which became worse as the years went on and was finally his undoing.

This year his arm, which was the greatest throwing machine in the business, gave out completely. This no longer was a matter that he put up with, but a serious ailment.

Latham can still bat and run bases with the best of them, and he is still a great thrower and a fielding light, he might prove a good man.

Sheehan came from the Little Rock club of the Southern League last summer. He made a good record with the attack last year, but he is not in good condition this year.

It was also rumored that McDougall would be given his release, but Manager Connor thinks he has the making of a pitcher in him, so he will be retained.

The team has not assumed definite shape. Connor, Quinn, Gross and Meyers will be the infield. Conroy, Barry, Hart, Kissinger, Donahue and McDougall will make up the outfield.

Breitenstein, land and Douglas will do the catching. Monte Cross arrived from Philadelphia last night and will be in the game today.

BATTING MATCH.

Good Records Made by St. Louis Terriers Sunday.

The rat killing match in a pit at the rear of a saloon corner Miller and Main streets Sunday afternoon was an exciting event for half a hundred lovers of such sport.

The contest narrowed down to two expert rat destroyers named Nellie and Mack.

Mack killed 11 rats in one minute and three seconds, out difference a rat between the referees, and Nellie and Mack were given another match at 15 rats each.

Mack had his 15 dead in one minute and forty seconds, but Nellie proved the better fighter by killing her 15 in one minute and forty seconds, and was declared the winner.

William Jaegerling's "Nigger" was given a single go at fifteen rats and broke the record by killing the lot in one minute and three seconds.

Other dogs that took part in the killing were: Sport, 5 rats in 1 minute 15 seconds; Skip, a bull pup, 10 rats in 1:30; Johnny, a bull pup, 15 rats in 1:45; Dave, 5 rats in 1:30; Jesse, 6 rats in 1:30; Skip, 15 rats in 2:10; Crib, a bull terrier, 15 rats in 1:15; Red, a Dandie Dinmont terrier, 15 rats in 1:40.

A NEW WOMAN FINED.

She Wears Men's Clothes and Tramps for a Living.

To Susie Stanberry belongs the doubtful honor of breaking the new woman record of the Second District Police Court.

Susie is what is technically known to the police as a "hobo," and she looks the part. She was arrested at the foot of St. Louis avenue by Officer Sale Sunday morning while in company with a dozen or more hobos of the male sex. She was forced out in typical tramp style. She wore a dilapidated coat and pair of trousers, and a straw hat, all of which had evidently been stolen from some farmer's scare-crow. Had not some member of the select circle in which she was found tipped her off to the policeman she might now be breathing the air of freedom instead of serving out a fine of $5 assessed by Judge Stevenson.

To a Post-Dispatch reporter she said she had traversed the length and breadth of the land in a Weary Waggle. Her last stand was at St. Louis, Ind. whence she came to this city in a box car.

"They don't do a blankety-blank thing to me here," she said. "I've got my own comment, as she turned to rejoin the variegated crowd in the "bull pen."

DR. SMITH CONVICTED.

Was Tried for Killing Dr. Baker in Benton County, Ark.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., May 18.—The jury trying Dr. Smith for the murder of Dr. Baker in Benton County in February, 1936, has rendered a verdict of murder in the second degree and assessing his punishment at five years in the penitentiary. The trial occupied four last week and was held in the courtroom of the county judge.

There had been two trials previous to this one, and the third was the result. The case was brought from Benton County on a change of venue.

JOHN STONE IS DEAD.

He Was Denver's Chief of Police in Exciting Times.

DENVER, Colo., May 18.—Ex-Chief of Police John Stone died today after a brief illness. He was in charge of the force that defended the City Hall against the State militia in April, 1934, when Gov. Bennett attempted to oust the Police Board by force. He had relatives in Philadelphia.

THE PIKE COUNTY TOUR.

Sad Accident to Billy Hahn Spoiled an Otherwise Perfect Day's Outing.

The sad accident which caused the death of poor Billy Hahn marred the pleasure of the most successful Pike County tour ever held by the St. Louis cyclists.

The tour itself was pronounced to be an unequalled success by the numerous St. Louis riders who accompanied the party.

On the boat Saturday night, the party went on the boat Saturday night, the party went on the boat Saturday night.

Barreling the actions of a few untamed scoundrels, who were light sleepers, the party was awakened by the early morning hours of the trip was uneventful and most delightful. But as complaint has been made of the action of the untamed ones in rendering sleep for a time impossible on the boat, some action will be taken to prevent a recurrence on the next tour.

The most drastic measures will be employed should the necessity for them arise.

By reason of the unusual early arrival of the boat the intention to have a souvenir photograph of the entire assembly of wheelmen taking part in the tour was frustrated. The Illinois contingent was still in the embrace of Morpheus and the Missourians could not be restrained from scattering before the sleepers could be gotten together.

The loss of this large picture is a source of much regret.

The tour was the idea of the St. Louis representation was the quad ridden by Messrs. Gus Pless, R. J. Leacock, Adams and left him.

The quad ever taken over the route, and was an object to the rural cyclists of Pike County, many of whom never before had the opportunity of gaining upon the big holler.

The riders of the quad were not the big holler, and making their route what was attempted.

CAMPAIGN FUND FOR SILVER DICK.

The Post-Dispatch Popular Fund Is Steadily Growing.

Now Amounts to $413.75.

This Paper Will Continue to Receive Subscriptions to Be Turned Over to Treasurer Stephens.

The Bland Campaign Committee is much gratified with the growth of the popular fund started by the Post-Dispatch.

Subscriptions up to noon to-day aggregate $413.75.

It will be observed from some of the notes published to-day that Republicans as well as Democrats are contributors to the fund.

Subscriptions of small amounts continue to come from everywhere. The comment made by the contributors are significant of what the people are thinking about and of the remedies they are seeking to cure the ills from which they know they are suffering.

Even men who make their living by gambling are aroused by the constantly increasing stringency caused by the contraction of the currency which Mr. Bland has proposed to stop to put a stop to the authority. Two of this class have sent $10 from their winnings at the races in St. Louis Saturday.

To the Editor of The Post-Dispatch.

ST. LOUIS, May 18, 1936.

Every man or woman who works with their hands should subscribe whatever they can to the Bland Campaign Fund. The fund is the only way to get the people of the country to-day imperiled. If we are to adopt a European monetary system, we must be prepared to adopt a European rate of wages, while the "protected" bondholders, syndicate gamblers and robber barons are thereby further enabled to continue to grind the poor laboring people down further and further until they are reduced

The People's Party Boss Says He

Doesn't Know Exactly What

His Party Will Do.

Chairman H. E. Taubeneck of the People's party National Executive Committee does not seem so confident now as he did a few weeks ago that the gold standard element will control the Democratic National Convention.

"The Chicago convention is the unknown quantity in the political problem at present," said Mr. Taubeneck to a Post-Dispatch reporter.

"If it were settled definitely as to whether or not the goldbugs were going to run things at Chicago in July the free coinage voters and all the other reform elements in our politics would decide on a definite course. I acknowledge that the free silver Democratic leaders are making a brave fight, but I am still doubtful of their ability to hang together at Chicago and put the gold men to rout.

"I believe the Post-Dispatch struck it about right Sunday when it stated that the gold men were going to get control of the Chicago convention through the National Committee, and thus force the silver men to bolt. I observe in Iowa and Illinois the goldbugs are preparing to bolt their State conventions and send contesting delegations to Chicago to be seated by the National Committee admitting delegates to seats in the temporary organization, then getting their representatives on the Credentials Committee and being awarded the seats in the permanent organization. In support of the gold bug platform, the State Convention now, and the silver men will bolt the National Convention.

When asked what he thought the Republicans would do at St. Louis in June Mr. Taubeneck said:

"They will nominate McKinley on a high tariff and goldbug platform. The money plank will be a grapple, but the people are now educated to a true understanding of a straddle on the money question. It means gold and gold alone.

"I have here before me the platform adopted by twenty-six Republican State conventions this year, and with the exception of California and Colorado none of them show any favor to silver. The majority of them make awkward attempts to straddle.

BUFFALO BILL'S BIG SHOW.

The Pr session Was a Mile Long and tracted Lots of Attention.

Eight of strange warriors pranced

ough St. Louis Monday morning clad in uniforms of alien races. There were sturdy British lancers, blonde-haired German Uhlans, dark-skinned Mexican rurales, fierce-eyed Russian Cossacks, sand-burned Bedouins of the desert, little-limbed French cavalrymen, painted and bow-decked Indians and soldiers too from the army of Uncle Sam.

Fierce as they looked and sternly as they sat their horses, there was no anger in their hearts. They were out in grand parade to let the people know that Bill Cody's Wild West show and congress of the world's rough riders would open in the afternoon and be glad to receive the half dollar of any citizen bent on seeing a grand spectacle of life on the frontier and wild and reckless riding.

The parade was a long one, stretching almost a mile. It was different from the great parades of the past, and was a display of unheard of beasts and mysteries of the jungle. The interest aroused was that which ever has dominated in men who are the awakening inspiration.

Men, women and children lined the sidewalk from one end of the route to the other, crowded to the doors and windows of the houses along the streets and gazed with no wonder but interest on the sunburned riders, who sat on their horses as though welded to them.

The gay uniforms of the different nations, the shining helmets of the soldiers' heads, the war paint on the red men, the prancing of the horses and the gleam of words in the hands of the cavalymen and the occasional flash of a pistol's bark from the belt of some frontiersman, gave a thrill to the spectators who were stirred by the blood and made men think of war.

First came a huge bandwagon with the inevitable mail boxes swarming around its wheels. Then came the soldiers of the German empire. Following these was a band of Indians. Then again came the sons of France trailed by another band of the cavalymen. The parade was a grand one, interspersed between each company of Caucasian soldiers were the Indians clad in their war paint.

Of all the riders, none seemed to sit their saddles like the Bedouins. There was an ease and grace in their movements, a marked variance with the stiffness of the others. Perched high on raised saddles, with their knees bent and feet thrown backward, they looked the centaurs come back once more to earth.

Another point which even a cursory glance made noticeable, was that the American cavalymen rode with their stirrups low so that their legs were almost straight. The horsemen of all the other nations kept the knees well bent.

One of the features of the parade was an odd weatherbeaten overland mail coach drawn by six horses. It contained an Indian family, the solemn squaw leaning back in her seat, coldly indifferent, while her black-haired, black-eyed, painted papoose chattered in the window at the gamins who ran below her and thought her the most wonderful, the most fortunate child on earth.

ASLEEP FOR 30 DAYS.

It Is Likely That Moritz Brandt Will

Starve to Death.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Moritz Brandt, 19 years old, has slept continuously for thirty days. It is impossible to awaken him. He was sent to the hospital on May 7, in a cataleptic state, in which he had been elated and excited. The visiting and house physicians call the disease hystero-catalepsy, or auto-hypnotism, and say the patient is in a danger that he may starve to death.

This is the third attack he has had within five years. The last attack lasted the longest. The strongest faradic current of electricity was given to him yesterday without his showing any signs of consciousness.

NEW YORK, May 18.—A dispatch to the Herald from St. Petersburg says:

Dispatches to the Novee Yemura from Vladivostok state that the Russians are preparing to leave Corea. First, however, they propose to restore the King to power under a strong guard disciplined by Russian troops.

Representatives of the rural population to the number of 600 have reached here and are lodged in the Corch Theater, whose stage has been transformed into a vast dining hall. The costumes of the country visitors present a most picturesque sight, comprising kinds from Middle Poland to the extreme Asiatic districts of the Russian Empire.

A JESUIT'S SENSATION.

He Says the Santiago School for Girls

Is Corrupt.

NEW YORK, May 18.—A dispatch to the Herald from Valparaiso, Chile, says:

Father Soler, a Jesuit of Santiago, has caused the sensation in that city by what the public regards as intolerant language, used in the course of an address in his pulpit. The priest charged directly that the Liceo de Ninos, the government high school for girls in the Santiago District, was a center of corruption. The director of the school was charged with having been a priest to appear before the Criminal Court and the Government attorney also accuses the revered father of slander.

FUNERAL OF GREY AT PRETORIA.

PRETORIA, May 18.—There was a great demonstration to-day upon the occasion of the funeral of F. L. Grey, the reform committeeman, who committed suicide by cutting his throat in jail, while laboring under melancholia induced by his prosecution. Barney Barnato rode in the first carriage. The streets were packed with people. Many wreaths were sent by Grey's fellow prisoners.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 18.—The most serious conflagration this city has experienced in ten years broke out shortly before 11 o'clock last night in a block in the center of the city bounded by the tracks of the Southern Railway and First and Collins streets. The Markham House, adjoining the Collins street car house, was the first building to be destroyed. The fire spread rapidly to the other buildings in the block, which were totally destroyed. The loss is estimated at $300,000.

MONTREAL, Quebec, May 18.—In all the Roman Catholic churches in Quebec Province a mandate signed by the Archbishop and Bishops was read last night dealing with the duties of the faithful in the approaching general election. The mandate concludes as follows:

"Therefore, all Catholics should only and solemnly engage themselves to vote in the election of June 1st, 1898, in favor of the legislation giving to the Catholics of Manitoba the school laws which were recognized as due them by the Privy Council of England. This is a duty which is incumbent on all Catholics, and you would not be justifiable in neglecting your spiritual guides nor be obliged to yourself in setting aside this obligation."

I observe in Iowa and Illinois the goldbugs are preparing to bolt their State conventions and send contesting delegations to Chicago to be seated by the National Committee admitting delegates to seats in the temporary organization, then getting their representatives on the Credentials Committee and being awarded the seats in the permanent organization. In support of the gold bug platform, the State Convention now, and the silver men will bolt the National Convention.

When asked what he thought the Republicans would do at St. Louis in June Mr. Taubeneck said:

"They will nominate McKinley on a high tariff and goldbug platform. The money plank will be a grapple, but the people are now educated to a true understanding of a straddle on the money question. It means gold and gold alone.

"I have here before me the platform adopted by twenty-six Republican State conventions this year, and with the exception of California and Colorado none of them show any favor to silver. The majority of them make awkward attempts to straddle.

BUFFALO BILL'S BIG SHOW.

The Pr session Was a Mile Long and

tracted Lots of Attention.

Eight of strange warriors pranced

ough St. Louis Monday morning clad in uniforms of alien races. There were sturdy British lancers, blonde-haired German Uhlans, dark-skinned Mexican rurales, fierce-eyed Russian Cossacks, sand-burned Bedouins of the desert, little-limbed French cavalrymen, painted and bow-decked Indians and soldiers too from the army of Uncle Sam.

Fierce as they looked and sternly as they sat their horses, there was no anger in their hearts. They were out in grand parade to let the people know that Bill Cody's Wild West show and congress of the world's rough riders would open in the afternoon and be glad to receive the half dollar of any citizen bent on seeing a grand spectacle of life on the frontier and wild and reckless riding.

The parade was a long one, stretching almost a mile. It was different from the great parades of the past, and was a display of unheard of beasts and mysteries of the jungle. The interest aroused was that which ever has dominated in men who are the awakening inspiration.

Men, women and children lined the sidewalk from one end of the route to the other, crowded to the doors and windows of the houses along the streets and gazed with no wonder but interest on the sunburned riders, who sat on their horses as though welded to them.

The gay uniforms of the different nations, the shining helmets of the soldiers' heads, the war paint on the red men, the prancing of the horses and the gleam of words in the hands of the cavalymen and the occasional flash of a pistol's bark from the belt of some frontiersman, gave a thrill to the spectators who were stirred by the blood and made men think of war.

First came a huge bandwagon with the inevitable mail boxes swarming around its wheels. Then came the soldiers of the German empire. Following these was a band of Indians. Then again came the sons of France trailed by another band of the cavalymen. The parade was a grand one, interspersed between each company of Caucasian soldiers were the Indians clad in their war paint.

Of all the riders, none seemed to sit their saddles like the Bedouins. There was an ease and grace in their movements, a marked variance with the stiffness of the others. Perched high on raised saddles, with their knees bent and feet thrown backward, they looked the centaurs come back once more to earth.

Another point which even a cursory glance made noticeable, was that the American cavalymen rode with their stirrups low so that their legs were almost straight. The horsemen of all the other nations kept the knees well bent.

One of the features of the parade was an odd weatherbeaten overland mail coach drawn by six horses. It contained an Indian family, the solemn squaw leaning back in her seat, coldly indifferent, while her black-haired, black-eyed, painted papoose chattered in the window at the gamins who ran below her and thought her the most wonderful, the most fortunate child on earth.

When Nature

Needs assistance it may be best to render it promptly, but one should remember to use even the most perfect remedies only when needed. The best and most simple and gentle remedy is the Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Company.

ASLEEP FOR 30 DAYS.

It Is Likely That Moritz Brandt Will

Starve to Death.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Moritz Brandt, 19 years old, has slept continuously for thirty days. It is impossible to awaken him. He was sent to the hospital on May 7, in a cataleptic state, in which he had been elated and excited. The visiting and house physicians call the disease hystero-catalepsy, or auto-hypnotism, and say the patient is in a danger that he may starve to death.

This is the third attack he has had within five years. The last attack lasted the longest. The strongest faradic current of electricity was given to him yesterday without his showing any signs of consciousness.

The People's Party Boss Says He

His Party Will Do.

Chairman H. E. Taubeneck of the People's party National Executive Committee

does not seem so confident now as he did a few weeks ago that the gold standard element will control the Democratic National Convention.

"The Chicago convention is the unknown quantity in the political problem at present," said Mr. Taubeneck to a Post-Dispatch reporter.

"If it were settled definitely as to whether or not the goldbugs were going to run things at Chicago in July the free coinage voters and all the other reform elements in our politics would decide on a definite course. I acknowledge that the free silver Democratic leaders are making a brave fight, but I am still doubtful of their ability to hang together at Chicago and put the gold men to rout.

"I believe the Post-Dispatch struck it about right Sunday when it stated that the gold men were going to get control of the Chicago convention through the National Committee, and thus force the silver men to bolt. I observe in Iowa and Illinois the goldbugs are preparing to bolt their State conventions and send contesting delegations to Chicago to be seated by the National Committee admitting delegates to seats in the temporary organization, then getting their representatives on the Credentials Committee and being awarded the seats in the permanent organization.
